

have one department of psychiatry. It is the type of thing that I think we are going to be needing to do more and more of in this state, combining facilities, combining resources and cooperation as opposed to each entity attempting to create its own particular bailiwick. I think we should take note of this fact and commend particularly the two individuals, Dr. O'Brien of Creighton University and Dr. Andrews of the University of Nebraska Med Center for their foresight in this area. I further would like to point out to their continuing efforts on how the two medical schools can cooperate together for cost savings for both institutions. For that reason I think we should take note of that and send a thank you in the form of this resolution.

SPEAKER BARRETT: Thank you. Discussion? If not, those in favor of the adoption of the resolution vote aye, opposed nay. Have you all voted? Please record.

CLERK: 31 ayes, 0 nays, Mr. President, on adoption of LR 118.

SPEAKER BARRETT: LR 118 is adopted. Moving over LR 119 to LR 120. Mr. Clerk.

CLERK: Mr. President, LR 120 offered by Senator Coordsen. It's found on page 2078. (Read explanation of LR 120.)

SPEAKER BARRETT: The member from Hebron, Senator Coordsen.

SENATOR COORDSEN: Mr. President and members of the body, I was talking to Senator Elmer. Which one are we on?

CLERK: We are on Deshler.

SENATOR COORDSEN: Deshler?

CLERK: Yes, sir.

SENATOR COORDSEN: Hey, I'm glad of that. Deshler is a little bit of a unique community of about a 1,000 inhabitants at this particular time, down in the southern edge of Thayer County. It is unique in that a little over 100 years ago when a railroad spur was put through that an entire village was moved to a new site, renamed the Village of Deshler. It was named after the man who originally owned the site of the town. I might say at this time when economic development is our buzz word that the City of Deshler is one of those small communities in the state that is alive and well. At one time it was the home of the
